

Historic Deerfield

Opening Doorways To The Past.

There are many things to see at Historic Deerfield.
We suggest you include the following experiences in your visit ...

...if you are interested in DECORATIVE ARTS.

SELF GUIDED SPACES you can visit on your own, at your own pace, anytime between 9:30 & 4:30:

- The Flynt Center of Early New England Life has open-storage of our permanent collection in the Museum's Attic, and two galleries currently featuring exhibitions of our textile and furniture collections.
- The Stebbins House was the first brick house in Deerfield built in 1799 by Asa Stebbins. The house now showcases decorative arts in the neoclassical style that would have been popular in that period.

GUIDED HOUSE TOURS available on the hour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.:

- The Ashley House was built for the Reverend Jonathan Ashley, the town's second minister, in the 1730s. Historic Deerfield founders Henry and Helen Flynt restored it in 1948, and furnished it with a range of 18th-century decorative arts appropriate for the River Gods – the Connecticut River Valley elite, of which Ashley was a part. Visitors should arrive five minutes before the start of hourly tours. Tours last approximately 35 minutes.

TOURS MADE BY APPOINTMENT when you purchase your ticket:

- The Allen House was the Deerfield home of founders Henry and Helen Flynt. The house is furnished with their own collections, as they lived in it through the 1950s and 1960s. See a museum attendant where you bought your ticket for more information. Subject to availability.
- Silver and Metalware Collection houses our collection of American silver, dating from the late 17th century through the early 19th century. See a museum attendant where you bought your ticket for more information. Subject to availability.

Museum Store Hours: open 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily

Champney's Tavern at the Deerfield Inn Hours: open 9:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. for beverages and snacks; lunch served 12 to 2:30 p.m.

Please be sure to check with museum attendants to find out about any special programs!